Overview

Who sanctioned battery energy storage systems in Georgia?

The systems are sanctioned by the Georgia Public Service Commission through the Integrated Resource Plan. Credit: Georgia Power. US-based electric utility Georgia Power has commenced construction of new battery energy storage systems (BESS) across the state of Georgia, totalling 765MW capacity.

Will Georgia Power build a battery energy storage system?

Georgia Power has started construction on four battery energy storage systems across the state. The projects will add 765 megawatts of generating capacity, enough to power approximately 573,750 homes. Two facilities will be built near Air Force bases, one at a retired coal plant, and another will expand an existing facility.

What is Georgia Power's 530mw Bess project?

Stay proactive with real-time data and expert analysis. The largest of the projects, McGrau Ford Phase I and II BESS in Cherokee County, will have a combined capacity of 530MW. By using company-owned land and the same construction company, Georgia Power aims to achieve efficiencies in contracting and construction.

What's new at the mcgrau Ford battery facility in Cherokee County?

The fourth site will double the battery-storage capacity of the McGrau Ford Battery Facility being built in Cherokee County, with the first phase of that project having begun operations last fall. The PSC approved battery storage in April of last year as part a huge increase in generating capacity for Georgia Power.
