

Haiti is withdrawing the exemption for double-glass modules

Overview

Which countries are excluded from Section 201 tariffs?

(Countries excluded from Section 201 tariffs include Brazil, Cambodia, Indonesia, South Africa and Ukraine, among others.) From February 7, 2024 to February 6, 2025, the Section 201 tariff will be 14.25%. From February 7, 2025 to February 6, 2026, the Section 201 tariff will be 14%.

Are CSPV bifacial modules exempt from Section 201 tariff?

CSPV bifacial modules are currently exempt from the Section 201 tariff. Since most modules today are bifacial, the Section 201 tariff does not cover most module imports. On May 16, 2024, however, President Biden announced that he will soon rescind the bifacial panel exemption.

How many exemption requests were approved for PV module manufacturing equipment?

Fourteen exemption requests were approved, while five exemptions for PV module manufacturing equipment were rejected. The exempted equipment primarily pertains to the ingot, wafers, and cell manufacturing, aimed at boosting US production and reducing reliance on Chinese equipment.

What does the exemption policy for PV equipment mean for US companies?

The exemption policy for PV equipment demonstrates the US government's intention to boost domestic manufacturing by exempting some critical equipment, thereby providing strategic support to the midstream sector in the PV supply chain. Companies must closely monitor US policy changes, particularly regarding tariffs on equipment and raw materials.
