Do you need an uninterruptible power supply (UPS)?

A power failure is more than an inconvenience—it can knock out essential equipment for hours on end. If you have important electronics that have to keep running when the power's out, you'll need an uninterruptible power supply (UPS). Many smart devices have built-in battery packs, with modern laptops packing enough cells to last a whole day.

While they provide plenty of power, they also provide plenty of noise and noxious fumes. Thankfully, there is a better option out there. Whether you want a backup in an emergency or just a way to power your phone when you are camping, you need to make sure you have the best portable power supply you can get your hands on.

How long do portable power supplies last?

The batteries that are used in portable power supplies are usually lithium-ion batteries. Even if these batteries are not used constantly, they will still age. They do not have a terribly long lifespan. In fact, even if you barely use your power supply, the battery will probably only last you two to three years at full capacity.
