Overview

Who makes sodium sulfur batteries?

Utility-scale sodium-sulfur batteries are manufactured by only one company, NGK Insulators Limited (Nagoya, Japan), which currently has an annual production capacity of 90 MW . The sodium sulfur battery is a high-temperature battery. It operates at 300°C and utilizes a solid electrolyte, making it unique among the common secondary cells.

What is a sodium-sulfur battery?

Sodium-sulfur (NaS) batteries are a promising energy storage technology for a number of applications, particularly those requiring high-power responses [11,21]. It is composed of a sodium-negative electrode, a sulfur cathode, and a beta-alumina solid electrolyte that produces sodium pentasulfide during the discharge reaction .

What is a sodium battery?

Sodium battery companies specialize in developing energy storage systems using sodium-ion technology as a cost-effective, sustainable alternative to lithium-ion batteries. Key players include Faradion (UK), Tiamat (France), HiNa Battery Technology (China), Natron Energy (US), and Altris AB (Sweden).

What companies use sodium batteries?

Chinese telecom giants like China Tower use sodium batteries for 5G infrastructure backup, while European automakers test them for low-speed EVs. Grid operators value their fire resistance for large-scale installations near urban areas. How Are Startups Disrupting the Sodium Battery Market?
