Overview

A grid-tied inverter for a residential system costs between $1000 and $3000. These inverters are designed for systems connected to the utility grid that do not require batteries. Who makes the best solar string inverter?

We review the best grid-connect solar inverters from the world's leading manufacturers Fronius, SMA, SolarEdge, Fimer, Sungrow, Huawei, Goodwe, Solis and many more to decide who offers the highest quality and most reliable solar string inverters for residential and commercial solar.

What is a solar grid tie inverter?

On-grid inverters are commonly used in applications where direct current voltage sources are connected to the grid, such as solar panels and small wind turbines. The output voltage frequency of the solar grid tie inverter needs to be the same as the grid frequency (50 Hz or 60 Hz).

How much does a grid-tied inverter cost?

A grid-tied inverter for a residential system costs between $1000 and $3000. These inverters are designed for systems connected to the utility grid that do not require batteries. They work by synchronizing the solar power output with the grid, and the excess power can be sold. Because they depend on the grid, there's no backup power during outages.

How much does a solar inverter cost?

The overall cost breakdown shows that while necessary, inverters are a relatively small part of the total investment in solar technology. After applying tax credits, the total cost to install a solar system, inverter included, comes to between $10,600 and $26,500. In 2023, there was a 15% drop in the price of residential systems.
