

Solar Base Station Flow Battery Transfer Agreement

Overview

---

Do energy storage tolling agreements restrict a developer's use of a battery?

As the energy stored in the battery belongs to the buyer, energy storage tolling agreements will often prohibit or restrict the developer's use of the storage system for station service. The inclusion of this condition requires that the developer enters into a retail service contract for the system's non-storage load.

Who owns the energy in an energy storage tolling agreement?

In an energy storage tolling agreement, the seller develops, owns, and operates the energy storage system, while the offtaker supplies charging energy. Therefore, the energy in the system belongs to the offtaker.

Are solar flow batteries a solution to solar intermittency?

Nature Communications 12, Article number: 156 (2021) Cite this article
Converting and storing solar energy and releasing it on demand by using solar flow batteries (SFBs) is a promising way to address the challenge of solar intermittency.

What is a Technology Strategy assessment on flow batteries?

This technology strategy assessment on flow batteries, released as part of the Long-Duration Storage Shot, contains the findings from the Storage Innovations (SI) 2030 strategic initiative.
