What is a double glass solar panel?

Traditional solar panels typically feature a glass front and a polymer backsheet. In contrast, double glass modules replace the polymer layer with another glass sheet, creating a robust sandwich structure. At IBC SOLAR, we use 2,0 mm x 2,0 mm glass layers, whereas some other market offerings use thinner 1,6 mm x 1,6 mm layers.

What are glass-glass PV modules?

Glass-glass PV modules, also known as double glass solar panels, are photovoltaic modules encapsulated with tempered glass on both the front and back sides. Compared to traditional glass-backsheet modules, they offer greater durability and environmental resistance.

What size glass does IBC Solar use?

At IBC SOLAR, we use 2,0 mm x 2,0 mm glass layers, whereas some other market offerings use thinner 1,6 mm x 1,6 mm layers. This ensures greater durability and longevity. Generally, the front and back glass layers in these modules have the same thickness, contributing to their balanced structural integrity.

What is the thickness of a glass module?

The thickness of the front glass generally used for this type of structure is 3.2 mm. Dual-glass type modules (also called double glass or glass-glass) are made up of two glass surfaces, on the front and on the rear with a thickness of 2.0 mm each.
