

United Communications Mobile Base Station Project

Overview

What is a mobile base station?

A mobile base station, also called a base transceiver station (BTS), is a fixed radio transceiver in any mobile communication network or wide area network (WAN). The base station connects mobile devices to the network and routes them to other terminals in the network or to the core network of a mobile operator. Read more Explore Mobile base.

Why are base stations important in cellular communication?

Base stations are important in the cellular communication as it facilitate seamless communication between mobile devices and the network communication. The demand for efficient data transmission are increased as we are advancing towards new technologies such as 5G and other data intensive applications.

What is a baseband unit (BBU)?

This integration improves performance in mobile networks and enables some of the following advan The baseband unit (BBU) is a crucial component in mobile base stations, handling tasks like signal processing, resource allocation, and protocol management to ensure efficient communication between mobile devices and networks.

Can unmanned aerial vehicles be used as flying base stations?

Considering that one of the goals of the future network generations is to provide ubiquitous communication in the most diverse scenarios to achieve high connection coverage, it is foreseen that the use of unmanned aerial vehicles as flying base stations (UAV-BSs) can potentially extend the network and communication range.
